military installations:

report on the following three

1. A fuel dump near Ocsa which had a railroad station which had been built for the exclusive use of the dump. During the October/November 1956 Hungarian revolt the Soviet Army took over the management of the dump and they were still holding it in late April 1957. The report includes a sketch showing the location of the fuel dump in relation to the town of Ocsa.
2. A barracks installation of the "Green AVH" at Szerencs. The capacity of the installation is estimated at approximately 1,500 men. The report includes a sketch showing the location of the barracks in relation to the town of Szerencs.
3. A barracks installation for Hungarian engineer troops at Nyiregyhaza. The capacity of the installation is estimated at approximately 1,000 men. The report includes a sketch showing the location of the barracks in relation to the towns of Nyiregyhaza and Oros.
